derstood that he would not step between them end their laurels. He considers himself out of the service. He is too far advanced in life to enter upon the active duties of the field, and He considers himself out any sinecure position would not suit his views of public duty. The patriotic of General Hitchcock no one can doubt. He is known to be a Union man and deeply anxious for the pacification of Missouri; but the best compliment that the Executive could offer would be no temptation to such a soldier to enter the service as a mere officeholder. The reasons which have impelled him to decline the appointment thus made, after most of the hard work has been done, will be appreciated, and the history of the country will yet let some light on the facts which deprived General Scott of General Hitchcock's services when the country most deeply needed all its tried and ablest military men.

THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA AND ITS INSTITUTION

Not many weeks ago the Committee on the District of Columbia, or the portion of it that then met in consultain said district; and, for a very good reason, the repo was at that time delayed. Now the whole affair seems to have wonderfully changed. Yet this need not be re garded as strange, for these are remarkable times. The est information that I can glean on this subject is, that there will probably be a majority and a minority report and it remains doubtful whether the majority report will be favorable or adverse to the interests of sin-very. Each member of the committee manifests a strong termination in the premises; and arguments, warm and forcible, are being used on both sides, to drag the majority to the one view or the other. In consideration of this fact, it looks now as if the matter will not b submitted to the House in the way of a report, or reports, for some time to come, each party believing that the future movements, on the part of our army and navy, will bring about a sentiment, a feeling, or peculiarity of circumstances, that will determine the final decision of the committee, and subsequent, action of Con-

WHAT SUALL BE DONE WITH THE REVOLTED STATES? States is becoming one of paramount importance. It is manifest that the lines are about to be drawn between the ultraists and conservatives in Congress on this particular measure. This division is made upon the bill reported by Mr. Ashley, from the House Territorial Committee, and the one introduted in the Senate by Hon. Garrett Davis, of Kentucky. Mr. Ashley's bill has received the assent of the Senate Territorial Committee, and, it is understood, has the approbation solutions. It establishes Territorial governments in the recovered rebel States, assigning to Them executive, lerislative and judicial officers, to be appointed by President, who shall form a governing council, but espe cially providing that slavery shall in no way be legally nized This bill is virtually one to establish on versal emancipation in the slave States.

Mr. Davis' bill is based on the resolutions submitted by him in antagonism to those of Mr. Sumner. It pro vides for retaining the integrity of State governments providing for the punishment of disloyal persons, and the confiscation of their property, and encouraging the restora-tion of the Southern States to the Union as loyal members inder the constitution. This programme is believed to have the approval of the President and a majority of the Ca binet. It presents a policy similar to that advocated in the HERALD to-day. The friends of the administration policy for the restoration of the Union are eager for this drawin of lines, and are confident of a splendid triumph over the radicals, who would pervert the war for the Union into one for the abolition of slavery.

CANDIDATES FOR GOVERNORS OF THE RECOVERED

In the event of the passage of the bill agreed upon by the Territorial Committees in both branches of Congress, to reduce the rebel districts, as fast as they are conquered, to the condition of Territories, and put them through a rudimental course of government, there will the different Territories. The most prominent candidates now talked of are:-For Governor of the Territory of South Carolina, Charles Sumner: Mississippi, John P. Hale; Texas, Henry Wilson; Louisiana, Wm. P. Fessenden; Georgia, John Sherman; Florida, Henry L. Dawes; Alabama, Martin F. Conway; Arkansas, Jim. Lane North Carolina, Roscoo Conkling: Tennessee, Ben. F Wade; Virginia, Owen Lovejoy; Ship Island, John B' Alley; and Tortugas, John Hickman.

THE MILITIA OF THE UNITED STATES. It appears, from the official returns for 1861, the grand aggregate of militia is 3,214,310. The number in Virginia, by the returns of 1861, was 143,000, whilst those of all the other s called "Confederate" States, Virginia in cluded, do not exceed 621,000. These returns, however, are not recent: they date from 1838 to 1859.

Order of General Hallock Respenting Prisoners of War.

General Halleck, in a General Order issued this morn ing in regard to prisoners of war, states that where any considerable number of prisoners are captured, the officers should be separated as soon as possible from the privates. Complete lists should be made as soon as possible, stating the name, rank and regiment of each person. One copy of the list should be sent to headquarters, and furnished to the officers in charge of the prison ors. As a general rule officers will not be given paroles until they reach the depot, and then only by authority of the General commanding the department. Medical offi-cers will not be separated from privates, but will be required to attend their own sick and wounded. For this purpose they will be given special paroles, allowing them every facility. In case of the sick and wounded Presents from the friends of the sick and woundd will be distributed to all alike. Prisoners will be rationed the same as our own troops. The commanding officers of departments will receive articles of clothng and comfort which may be sent to prisoners by their friends, and will permit prisoners to receive from and transmit to their friends open letters, which must be inspected by a proper officer. Money sent by friends should not be delivered to prisoners except in small and they should be disbursed upon orders from the prisoners, to whom they belong. When a prisoner is exchanged or released he will be paid the balance due him. Chaplains will be allowed free intercourse with the prisoners, to give them religious instruction. Their friends will be permitted to visit them only when the commanding officer may deem it safe and proper, and then under such regulations as he may adopt.

Sword for Major General Banks

A sword for Major General Banks, of very handsom workmanship, has lately been completed, and will b luring the present week. The hilt is of solid silver; the scabbard is of silver, plated with gold, and handsomely scabbard is of silver, plated with gold, and handsomely wrought, and the following inscription is engraved.—
'Presented to Major Genoral N. P. Banks, by Colonel J. K. Murphy, Major M. Scott, Captain L. C. Kinsler, of the Twenty-ninth regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers.' The hilt also contains the initials, 'N. P. B.' A second scabbard, for field use, accompanies the sword. It is steel, bronzed. The sword blade is what is known in the trade as 'Solinghen' (from Germany), and of fine tempor and quality. The case enclosing the sword also contains a Major General's yellow sash, together with the belt for the sword.

Destructive Fire at Hilwaukee.

Minwaukee, March I, 1862.

A destructive fire here this morning destroyed the entire block known as the Albany Buildings. The first floor was occupied by the American Express office, Lealy's gas fixtures, E. B. B.Bs, Ilyaore, and the Wisconsin seed store and soloons. The stocks were mastly saved. The second story was occupied by the law offices of French, Lynch & Miller, Brown & Ogden, Casey & Fratt and several others. Their books and payers, were saved. A large concert and opera hall covered the third floor, and was entirely destroyed, including all the securey and stage fixtures. The least of the buildings is estimated at $75,000, upon which the insurance is $50,000. The amount of the other losses is not as yet estimated.

DISCUS TOW'S CAME! AT THE NEW YORK ASHENAUM -Mesars, Lewis Paker and George Ryer-actors better known in the provinces than in this city-opened Wai lack's former theatre last evening, with the title of the New York Atheneum" and a new version of the play "Uncle Tom's Cabin." The Athenicum promises to produce only the moral and religious drams, and "no theatrical performance" is given in connection with th pious plays. The congregation last evening was large; the pews nearly all filled, the scholr, led by Koppitz, good, and the piece very preachy. The "eminent member of the Philadelphia judiciary" who prepared the Athenseum adaptation has avoided, with signal ability, Atheneum adaptation has avoided, with signal ability, all the strong points and retnized all the weak ones of the old version, and has cattroly neglected to end the play, which was still in progress when we left the finance at an early hour Sunday morning—the characters mysteriously disappearing, one by one, but the plot still undeveloped. The scenery is very bad. Woods at the sides of the stage, for instance, and a venetran baleony drawed with American flags being given for a scene in Verment. The leading actorative unay call them such—were excellent, with the exception of Mr. G.C. Howard. Mrs. Howard as Topsey, and Mrs. Hough as Aunt Ophella, were admirable, and carried the piece through with the assistance of Mr. S. C. Campbell, who sang exquisitely, which the other singers did not. The play will be repeated this week.

RABBOAD ACCURST.-The Philadelphia train, due here about one o'clock yesterday afternoon, by the New Jersoy Railroad, met with a mishap when within two or three miles of Jersey City, which delayed the arrival of caused by the engine running over an obstruction, suprecipitating it against a train of coal cars standing on a sidelog. The baggage car became detached and was thrown clear across the track on the opposite side, de thrown clear across the track on the opposite side, depositing the crates containing the baggage into a ditch.
Fortunately the passenger cars remained on the track, and the passengers, as well as the men employed on the train, escaped without the slightest injury. The engineer and firemen remained at their posts, and their escape is remarkable. Serious atmage was done to the engine, and some of the coal cars were pretty well demolished.
The obstruction caused a temporary inconvenience to passengers by nearly all the afternoon trains, who were compelled to walk from train to train by the obstruction, and it was not until after seven o'clock that the en ine and disabled train was got clear of the tracks and regularity in the trains resumed.

The premises in which the fire originated were occupied as an umbrella and parasol stick factory, and broke out on the second floor in the rear of the building. As roundsman M. J. Fogerty was going his patrol rounds he discovered the fire, and the patrol at once took measures to extinguish the same. Religious Intelligence. CITY CHURCHES TO-DAY.

DIOCESS OF NEW YORK The following are the regulations for Lent for the preent year, Ash Wednesday occurring on the 5th

March:—

1. All the "week days" of Lent, from Ash Wednesday till Easter Sanday, are fast days of procept, on one meal, with the allowance of a moderate collation.

2. The precept of fasting implies also that of abstinence from the use of diesh meat. But, by dispensation, the use of flesh meat is allowed in this diocess at the principal meal on Monday, Tuesdays and Thursdays of Lont, from the first sunday until Palm Sanday.

3. The use of flesh meat is not allowed on Thursday next after Ash Wednesday.

4. The abstinence from flesh most on Palm Sanday, and on the Tuesday flowing Palm Sanday, which has bither to been observed in this diocess, is dispensed with.

5. There is neither tast nor abstinence to be observed on Sundays of Lent.

6. It is not allowed to use fish with flesh meat at the same meal.

7. There is no prohibition to use eggs, butter or cheese, provided the rules of quantity prescribed by the first be compiled with.

8. The church excuses from the obligation of fasting (but not or abstinence from fiesh meat, except in apecial cases of sickness or the like) the following classes of persons:—1st, the infirm; 2d, those whose duties are of an exhausting or laborious character; 3d, persons who are only attaining their growth; 4th, women in pregnancy, or nursing infants; 5th, those who are enfeebled by old age.

or nursing minats; oth, those who are emcessed by our age.

But these persons should be persuaded on just grounds that they are entitled to examption from the precept—so that not observing it may give no effence to their own constitutions or scandal to their neighbor. For this purpose, it they have any doubt, they will do well to consult their spiritual director or their physician. They should, however, cherish the interior spirit of this holy season the same as if they were able to comply with the exterior observance of fasting and mortification, a spirit of sorrow and compunction for sin, a spirit of prayer and received in. This is the duty of all, and without this the fast itself would be rejected by God.

Broadway Railroad-The Health Bill-Another CharterAmendment-The Other Abandoned by Its Authors-The Princhai Feature of the Substitute-The Charges that It Makes in the City Goveruh ent-A Railroad in Every Street and Avenue of New York-Albany and Susqueha una Railroad-Arrival of Generals Buck ner and Tilghman, &c.

ALBANY, Feb. 28, 1862.
The argument on the Breadway Railroad bill was closed estands. yesterday, after a disc, "ssion of over five hours. Mr. Cozans handled the questi, a in behalf of the stage inte-rest with a great deal of abt. ity, and presented several points that were not merby the advocates of the measure. Mr. Williams, who repres inted the property holders, although he made a good a eech, was exceedingly unfortunate in his admissions for his clients. If there was any virtue in the argument in esented by Messrs. Stewart and Haight last week, they were refuted by their own counsel yester day. His admissions did not leave anything for the friend of the bill to refute. Mr. Andrews, the counsel em the friends ployed to argue the legal points, did not find it necessary to make a reply to him. Mr. Ward, a te, attempt resort to a humorous line of argument, in which he suc resort to a humorous line of argument, at which he sac-ceeded in amusing the audience, at the expanse of the op-ponents of the bill, for a full hour. No action will be taken by the committee on the bill before next Tuesday, as they have agreed to hold the matter open until next Monday night, to receive amendments from any person desirous of offering any.

The property holders in attendance state that they have never appeared before a committee that manifested so strong a disposition to treat all sides fairly and give no person undue advantage.

mittee a discussion was also being held in the committee room of the Committee on the Affairs of Cities, over the Health bill. The argument on that question also closed yesterday. The committee are now left to consider what fell stillborn, and seemed to die of its own weight. It fell so sudden that even its own godfather refused to own it. It remained in the hands of the committee silen and unthought of, making it necessary that another bill should be drawn up. Several parties in New York, including those in Mayor Opdyke's interest, have had consultation, and drawn up another charter amendment.

It arrived here last night, and will probably be presented to the committee to day as a substitute for the original charter amendment referred to them. The following ar some of its principal features:—

It provides that the Board of Aldermen shall consist of sixteen members, elected by Senatorial districts. At ber next, there shall be voted for in each of the Senatorial districts four Aldermen, but only two on one ticket. The two receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared elected, and the two next highest appointed by the Mayor. The Aldermen so electe shall meet and classify themselves into two classes, one from each Senatorial district of those elected to hold office for two years, and one of these appoi classes, one from each Senatorial district of those elected to hold effice for two years, and one of those appointed for the same length of time, the others to hold effice for one year. At the election in 1863 two Aldormen shall be voted for in each Senatorial district, but only one on a ticket; the person receiving the highest number of votes to be declared elected, and the next highest appointed. This makes the Board of Aldormen consist of sixteen members, one half to retire each year.

The Board of Councilment is to consist of seventeen members, to be elected by Assembly districts, the same as the Aldermen are at present, to hold office for one year. It also provides that any person holding office under the charter who shall accept or hold other civil office of honor, trust or emolument, under the government of the United States, under this charter, or any county office, or shall receive fees or emoluments directed to be paid by any ordinance of the Common Council, shall vacate his office. It likewise enumerates some of the duties of the Mayor, and gives him the power to appoint all of the heads of departments, except the Comptroller, that official to be elected, as at present.

It empowers him to convene from time to time and consult with the heads of departments, Presidents of the Boards of Aldermen and Councilmen, of Metropolitan Police and of the Contral Park, in relation to such measures as shall be deemed requisite for the weifare of the city. It gives the Health Commissioners a bureau in the Mayor's office, to which shall be assigned all the duties heretofore appartaining to the bureaus of sanitary inspection, street cleaning and record of statistics, in the City Inspector's Department, except such duties as may be assigned to the Metropolitan police.

The first election for Mayor to take place in December, 1863, to hold office for two years. It gives him the appointment of the heads of departments, and if the Aldermen and it the fail to confirm him in the days he shall forthem that the first many app

Sheriff.

The heads of departments, except the Croton Aqueduct Board, to hold office for four years.

It places the Chief Engineer of the Fire Fepartment at the head of a bureau in the Street Department, but to be elected in the same manner as at present.

The Croten Aqueduct Board is to be called the Croton Aqueduct I separtment, to hold office for five years. It also listes the City Inspector's Department, with the exception of the Bureau of He ith, Markets, &c., &c., and repeals all ordinances relating to all other portions of that acquirinent. It also provides an Auditory Popartment to ray so and settle all claims against the city.

It gives the members of the Common Council a salary each of $1,200. All elective officers provided for in the clarater to be chosen next becember, with the exception of the Mayor.

These are its principal features. It will be seen that it does not touch any of the special commissions.

A large number of bit's were this morning reported by the standing committees of the Assembly, and referred to the Common demander of the Whole. Among them was one providing that evidence given by witnesses before investigating committees shall not be used in courts of justice against them. There were also several bills read the third time and passed. There were numerous notices presented of bills; naming others was one to lay a railroad in overy street and avenue in the city of New York, got up as a burlesque on the numerous bills that have made their appearance for railroad grants.

The Albany and Susquehanna Railroad bill passed the sense this morning, after several unsuccessful efforts to recommit. It received another works. A large portion of the morning session of that body was taken up in debating a motion to recommit a bill relative to the insolvent mutual insurance companies. The Sonate adjourned before taking a vote.

The rebet Generals Buckner and Tilghman arrived here to-day, in charge of Major Cutts. Being obliged to lay over until the afternoon train on the Albauy and Boston road, they were taken to Congress Hall, a large crowd following, anxious to obtain a view of them. On their arrival at that hotel the crowd Tushed in. From the noise and confusion a person would have imagined that the house had been taken by storm. Mr. Mitchell was obliged to call in a squad of police before order could be restored, or they could be taken accress the hall to another room. After the police cleared the hall the crowd stood on the outside, leoking anxiously to that portion of the house in which the rebels were. Their arrival here has been quite a focurre in Athany, and created as much occitement as a dozen elephants.

On the arrival of the morning papers from New York they sent for the Hamain, and at once read the war news and discussed its importance with Major Cutts. They seem to take their arrest with good gace, and are not at all uneasy in regard to their condition. Their detention here is owing to some difficulty on the Boston road, probably blocked up with snow drifts. As it is still blowing and drifting, it is somewhat doubtful about their leaving before to morrow.

NEW YORK LEGISLATURE. Senate.

ALBANY, March 1, 1862. BILLS REPORTED PAYORABLY. To prevent trauds in the use of stamps, trade marks.

The New York County Court House bill. To correct the abuses relating to pavements in Nov To incorporate the American Missionary Association.

To incorporate the Presbyterian Committee of Home To amond the charter of the Brooklyn Institute. To regulate the sale of hay and straw in Brocklyn.

The bill was referred to the Committee of the whole. No other business of interest was done. Assembly.

of Mr. Royat Purties, of New York, who spoke in opposi-

The bill to provide for the public defence was taken up as the special order. The feature of the discussion on the bill was the snach tion to the bill: First, on the ground that the United States government had already appropriated a large amount of me ney for the very purposes contemplated by the bill; and second, that the letter of Secretary Seward inviting the States to advance money for the defence of the coast and borders was written before these appropriations were made. He further objected to the bill ecause there was no provision made in it for conpurrence with the advice of the United States In erecting fortifications the scientific commissioners under the bill should at least be officers of the engineer orps of the United States. He read from the am units

United States government in works of defence. To argued that if the government builds fortifications on the northern borders it will invite England to do the same, and all along the Canadian frontier will string up defences superior to our own. He then expressed regret at the tone adopted towards the British nation during this debate. He did not believe it would benefit this country to keep alive towards from British in College towards from British in the reviewed the then expressed regret at the tone alopted towards the British nation during this debate. He did not believe it would benealt this country to keep alive trittating feetings towards Great Britain. He reviewed the political and commercial relations between the two countries to show that at all times Fagland his been more conricous and liberal towards England his been more conricous and liberal towards England his been more conricous and liberal towards the United States has been towards England. In the Treat affair we were wrong, and we should not be ashamed to say so. As to leave being granted to convey British troops through the State of Maine, General Scott, one of the staunchest guardians of the nation's honor, had expressed the hope that the British troops would be allowed to land in New York and pass through this State. He read from the speech of Lord Bullerin, in the English Parliament, to show how different was the tone of the British administration towards us. He repelled the idea of say fear of invasion of the State from Canada or the seacoust. With the present population and force of America, all Europe would not desire to invade us.

During the speech of Mr. Phelps he was several times interrupted, and his defence of the British government created quite an excited state of feeling in the House.

Mr. HULBURD introduced amendments, so as to leave to the discretion of the Commissioners the question of virial mainent necessity." and requiring the approval or assent of the United States Engineer Bepartment in the matter of erecting and arming the fortilications, leaving the "standing army section" as it is, with the profise vurned act to repel invasion and defend the State in war."

Mr. Fithuren replied to Kr. Phelps, taking ground in favor of the bills amended, attacking the British government and policy, and decaring it his belief that there was danger of Aforeign war.

Mr. Halle offered an amendment naming Millard Fillmore, ex-Governer Seymour and Messe H. Grinnell as Commissioners in place of the Ge
